The use of adequate and complete drawings is the best way to obtain a benefit by the public which is to be had by the USPTO in processing an application. Confidential information, such as formulas and processes, should not be included in drawings, provided, however, that they are described in the specification and shown in the drawings in such a manner that they can be understood. Claims are to be kept as simple and short as possible and should cover the subject matter for which protection is desired. A separate sheet of paper should be sent to the Chief Information Officer, U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, 1450 P Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20531, for a completed Form 1449, "Request to Retain a Benefit by the Public." This collection is estimated to take 12 minutes to complete and will be used for processing applications. This form will vary, depending upon the nature of the application. An estimated average burden of 12 minutes per response has been placed on this collection. This form will be used for processing applications.
